

The Centre for Advanced Studies
Justitia Amplificata presents

June 7-9, 2017

DIMENSIONS OF POVERTY

Freie Universität Berlin hosted at
Haus der Kulturen der Welt

This conference on philosophy and poverty will feature new theoretical perspectives on absolute and relative poverty within and between nations.

Sections

- I) What are the normative categories of multidimensional poverty measurement - and what is their use in practice?
- II) Global asymmetries? How to make poverty research itself more inclusive
- III) Is there a link between political philosophy and activism in the field of global poverty research?

Speakers

Sabina Alkire (OPHI, Oxford)
Sakiko Fukuda-Parr (New School, N.Y.C.)
Varun Gauri (World Bank, Washington DC)
Stephan Klasen (University of Göttingen)
Onora O'Neill (University of Cambridge)
Sanjay Reddy (New School, N.Y.C.)
Mitu Sengupta (Ryerson, Toronto)
Leif Wenar (King's College, London)
Jo Wolff (UCL, London)

Join the debate on twitter:
#berlinpoverty17

Organizers

Dr. Valentin Beck
Prof. Dr. Stefan Gosepath
Prof. Dr. Henning Hahn
Dr. Robert Lepenies

CFP: The conference team invites submissions for presentations from all relevant disciplinary fields. For further information see:
www.justitia-amplificata.de

Freie Universität

Berlin

